Signs of Promise

February carries the quiet tension between winter's lingering chill and spring's hopeful arrival. As I walk the Asbury Trail this time of year, I'm always encouraged by the first small flowers pushing through the cold ground. These early blooms remind me of lines from one of my favorite hymns, "Hymn of Promise," written by Natalie Sleeth:

"In the bulb there is a flower; in the seed, an apple tree; in cocoons, a hidden promise: butterflies will soon be free!"

Those words beautifully capture the mystery of God's unfolding work in creation and in our lives. Even when growth is hidden beneath the surface, there is movement, purpose and promise. Winter gives way to spring, darkness to dawn, and ultimately, life to resurrection. God is always at work, often in ways we cannot yet see.

As we look toward the transition from winter into spring at Lake Junaluska, we are also stepping into a season of promise through the Sharing Our Gifts Campaign. Like the first flowers emerging along the trail, the generosity of our community will take shape in meaningful projects that will serve guests and families for generations to come. Continued support is essential to sustain this momentum — ensuring that future projects can be fully funded and bring lasting, positive change to Lake Junaluska and all who gather here.

Among the exciting areas of focus are the revitalization of mini-golf, enhancements surrounding the Cross, and improvements to Stuart Auditorium. Each of these spaces plays a unique role in creating environments where families gather, worship is deepened, and guests experience renewal and connection. Through your faithful support, these places are being strengthened to better serve all who come seeking rest, reflection and community.

In the coming months, we will share more updates on the fundraising progress for these projects. Your continued generosity is essential to carrying these efforts across the finish line and beginning work on improvements that will create transformational experiences. Together, we are planting seeds that will grow into lasting impact, helping ensure Lake Junaluska remains a welcoming and vibrant place for generations to come.

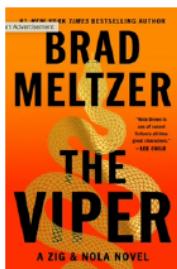

As you walk these sacred grounds, notice the subtle signs of change: new buds, longer days, warmer light. Let them serve as reminders that hope is always taking root. Thank you for being part of this season of growth and for helping us continue to be a place of Christian hospitality where lives are transformed through the renewal of soul, mind and body.

Yours in Christ, Ken Howle

NEW BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY

The Viper is an instant New York Times bestseller!

"A thrilling adventure, full of twists and turns, gripping from the first page to the last. Hugely enjoyable. The perfect book to meet Zig & Nola." — Alex Michaelides, New York Times bestselling author of The Silent Patient. New York Times bestselling author Brad Meltzer is back with his thrilling Zig and Nola series, unraveling a shocking cold case with a personal—and deadly—twist.

Doctors see more than just patients who are cured against all odds. From a rabbi who somehow knew a carpenter's infant son had a heart problem, to an NFL player's amazing survival from a rare kind of cardiac arrest, these stories bolster the belief there is a higher power at work. The Miracles Among Us reminds us that God's love has the capacity to surprise us even in our darkest moments. Whether you are a healthcare professional, a patient, or simply someone intrigued by the mysteries of medicine, this book provides an enlightening exploration of how miracles manifest in everyday life.

Lake Junaluska is stronger because of you.

Throughout the year, Junaluskans generously give their time and talents to support our staff, care for our guests, and serve our wider community. Through these acts of service, you quietly live out your faith in ways that matter.

One meaningful way to volunteer together is our annual Lake Cleanup Day on March 7 from 9–11a, when we're joined by 150–200 community members to care for this place we all love. We invite you to be part of it! As a reminder, all volunteers are asked to complete the annual volunteer sign-up and liability release, available here: bit.ly/LJ-volunteer-form or via the QR code below.
